En el Condado de Orange, en California, en un futuro donde América ha perdido la batalla contra las drogas, un policía de incógnito (Reeves) recibe la orden de espiar a sus amigos... Al igual que ya hizo en la aclamada "Waking Life", Richard Linklater mezcla animación y personajes reales, como en una novela gráfica, para llevar a cabo esta adaptación del relato de Philip K. Dick.

In a totalitarian society in a near future, the undercover detective Bob Arctor is working with a small time group of drug users trying to reach the big distributors of a brain-damaging drug called Substance D. His assignment is promoted by the recovery center New Path Corporation, and when Bob begins to lose his own identity and have schizophrenic behavior, he is submitted to tests to check his mental conditions.

Basada en un relato breve de Philip K. Dick, "Paycheck" cuenta la historia de Michael Jennings (Ben Affleck), un genio famoso en todo el mundo que realiza proyectos especializados para corporaciones de alta tecnología. Cuando termina un trabajo, se borra su memoria para que no divulgue los secretos de la compañía. Suelen pagarte muy bien por sus servicios y Jennings espera obtener un total de 4.400 millones de dólares por su último proyecto, en el que ha empleado cinco años de su vida. Pero cuando termina el proyecto, en vez de tan sustancioso cheque se le entrega un sobre lleno de objetos sin valor y se le dice que había aceptado renunciar a cobrar su trabajo. Como su memoria ha sido borrada siguiendo la costumbre habitual, Jennings no puede defenderse. Pero luego descubre que los objetos que ha recibido son pistas sobre su pasado. Con la ayuda de Rachel (Uma Thurman), la mujer que ama y con la que ha trabajado durante los últimos tres años, Jennings emprende una carrera contrarreloj para solucionar el rompecabezas de su pasado.

Michael Jennings is a reverse engineer and what he does is technical jobs for certain companies and as soon as he is done, his memory of the work he has done is wiped out. Now the longest he has been contracted is 2 months. But now billionaire, James Rethrick offers him a job that would last 2 years, maybe 3, and he promises that he will probably earn 8 figures. Michael agrees. Before beginning he turns in all of his personal effects. And when the job is done, his memory is erased and he learns he made over 90 million dollars over the three years. When he goes to claim it and his personal effects, he discovers that prior to the erasure of his memory he waived his rights to the money he earned and that the items that were given to him were not the ones he gave when he began. Later he is arrested by the FBI who say that he committed some act of treason and murder. It's while he is in custody that he escapes using some the items that he was given. He later meets with a friend who gives him some information that helps him understand what is going on. And at the same time Rethrick for some reason wants him so he is being pursued by Rethrick's people.
